A NEW STORY FOR THE OIL COMMITTEE

Alleged Attempt to Sell the Republican Presidential Nomination At the Last Convention Under the Senate Knife Today

TO BE KNOWN 'WOOD'S STORY

First Brought Into Print By a Public Statement From Leonard Wood, Jr., Who Mentioned His Father As One of Candidates Who Scorned Offer

Washington, March 19—(United Press)—"The food story" of an attempt to sell the Republican presidential nomination at the last Republican convention for promise of the secretaryship of interior—the cabinet post which has control of the nation's natural resources—went under the senate oil committee knife today.

The story was first brought into print by a public statement from Leonard Wood, Jr., who mentioned his father as one of the Republican presidential candidates who scored the offer. But Senator Thomas J. Welsh, chief rosecutor, has subpoened five other witnesses who, he believes have intimate knowledge of the affair.

At the approach of this new sensation, the Republican side lost—for one reason or another—its grip upon the committee. Reed Smoot, ranking Republican member, is tied up on the tax bill and cannot be present at further meetings of the committee. Lenroot, the only other Republican who is intimately acquainted with the details of the inquiry—has resigned. His place was taken by Senator Spencer, of Missouri, who also is forced to absent himself because of the press of the Mayfield elections investigation which he is conducting.

Among those subpoened to tell "the Wood story" are:

Leonard Wood, Jr., now a theatrical producer.

Tiffin Gilmore, deputy secretary of state of Ohio.

Harry Mackenzie, from Coolidge campaign headquarters, Chicago.

Norman J. Gould, of New York.

Rudolph Hynicka, of Cincinnati, and New York.

Charles H. Gerrish, of Columbus.

The committee first, however, planned to hear Col. James G. Darden, of the Mutual Oil company, claimant to a portion of Teapot Dome, and friend of the late President Harding and Attorney General Daugherty.

Chris J. Dunhy, golf star, and employe of Edward B. McLean also was expected to appear.

FUNERAL FOR J. WESLEY M'CAMEY TOMORROW

Funeral services for James Wesley McCamey, aged 51 years, widely known resident of Charleroi for the past 25 years, and former engineer of the Pittsburgh Steel company, who died Monday night at 10 o'clock at his late home in 425 McKean avenue, following an illness of 10 days due to pneumonia, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of Rev. Dr. C. B. King, pastor of Christ Lutheran church. Interment will follow in the Charleroi cemetery. Besides his widow, Mrs. Hannah McCamey, the deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. William High, Jr., three sisters; eight brothers and two grandchildren. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. Charleroi lodge, and the P. H. C.

60 Scouts Ready For The Big Test

When G. S. Withers and the assistant first aid examiners for Charleroi Council of the Boy Scouts arrived at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church last night, they found more than 60 Scouts ready for the second-class test in first aid.

With the assistance of the local commissioners it was found possible to give tests on all problems, except demonstrations of the various bandages and their use. These five problems will be given as soon as they can be arranged for. The troops represented were Nos. 2 and 4 of Charleroi, and No. 3 of Lock No. 4.

Mr. Withers gives due credit to the Scoutmasters and their assistants for the knowledge they have imparted to the Scouts, in turn demonstrated by them; as thus far in the problems handled by them there were no failures, and but few demerits.

OFFICERS AND SAILORS LAND YANKEES HELP

Washington, March 19—(United Press)—A landing arty of 9 officers, and 167 sailors has been sent to the relief of Americans at Honduras, following urgent requests sent to the navy department from American minister, Franklin Morales.

"The shooting of innocent eople in the street by drunken soldiers and the warring political factions and looting of American, British, and Chinese stores has made the situation very grave," Morales reported to the state department.

Both the American Councilate and Legation were fired upon before the landing party left. They arrived at ... harbor.

Last Night Eastern Star Installs Heads

In the closing meeting of the year, Charleroi Chapter, No. 122, Order of the Eastern Star, held impressive and beautiful ceremonies incident to the installation of officers, last evening, elected to serve for the ensuing year. Miss Clara G. Cooper, District Deputy, was installing officer.

The meeting, which was held in the Masonic rooms, Fifth street and McKean avenue, was preceded by a tureen supper and was attended by approximately 150 members and visitors. A large visiting delegation was present from Monessen, Donora, California, Bentleyville, and other valley towns. At the close of the ceremonies, a musical and literary program was much enjoyed in which Mrs. Emma Clutter Showers, Miss Helen Reeves, Mrs. Helen Lamb Sance, Miss Mary Welch and the Chapter choir took part. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

Suit of James G. Lee Against the Zeidman Furniture Company And That of Mary and Harry Balovich Against R. C. Tate

DEFENSE ON YESTERDAY

In the Lee vs. Zeidman Case, Jacob Zeidman Denied Responsibility For Injuries Sustained By Mr. Lee, Inasmuch As Glenn Not In His Employ

Considerable local interest is involved in local cases in common pleas court in the city of Washington this week. Before Judge Erwin Cummins yesterday was the suit of James G. Lee against the Zeidman Furniture Company of this place. The defense was heard in the forenoon. Jacob Zeidman, owner of the defendant company, denied he was responsible. He averred that Louis Glenn, who was driving the truck which struck Mr. Lee, was not in his employ at the time, and had no authority to have the truck the afternoon of the accident.

It was averred Louis Glenn took the truck without the knowledge of Mr. Zeidman, drove it from the rear of the Zeidman store across to Belle Vernon, and while returning struck Mr. Lee. The father of Mr. Glenn, Charles Glenn, works for Mr. Zeidman. On the grounds that the driver of the truck at the time was not working for Mr. Zeidman and had no authority to have the truck, Mr. Zeidman claimed he was not responsible for damages to Mr. Lee. The jury was out when court adjourned.

Before Judge Brownson, the suit of Mary and Harry Bavlovich against R. C. Tate, another suit growing out of an automobile accident here, went to the jury late yesterday afternoon. The Tate car ran into a wagon on which the plaintiffs were riding which was wrecked and Mary Bazlovich was injured.

The defendant claimed he was running along behind the wagon and when he had to stop suddenly, to avoid hitting the wagon slid into it. The horse frightened, it was averred, ran away, and after it had turned a corner, Mrs. Bavlovich was thrown out and hurt. The jury found for the plaintiffs for $300.

These cases listed for this week have been otherwise disposed of: C. H. Edward, etc., vs. Adell S. Patterson. Frances L. Inglefield vs. Joseph Montquin, George Subez vs. George Tokar and Arman Freichler Company vs. Southern Furniture company, all settled; John McKeeton vs. Buck Holde, John Miller vs. Mike Juronowicz, Harry W. Scott vs. Pennsylvania Railroad company, Abe Morris vs. Woodward Furniture company, and Bruno Flora vs. Pittsburgh W. & W. Railway company, all continued.

Knights of Malta Hold Patriotic Meeting At Hall Last Night

Valley Echo Commandery No. 379, Knights of Malta, held a patriotic meeting in their hall in Fallowfield avenue last night that was well attended by the members of the organization, by the Dames of Malta, and by the invited public. Raymond Small, commander, was in charge.

The advertised orator of the evening, the Rev. J. M. Demster of Crafton, was unexpectedly called to the state of Virginia, his substitution being Attorney H. H. Negley of Pittsburgh, who was formally introduced by Deputy Grand Commander Newell of Crafton.

Attorney Negley gave his countenance to the organization for several reasons, principal among which is its loyalty to the government, to the public school system, and to the church. He said among other things that the public schools are the foundation and superstructure of things material as reflect this country's welfare, and that a man was not 100 percent American who did not give them his loyal support.

Attorney Negley was followed by the Rev. Dr. C. B. King of Christ Lutheran church, who said that in his opinion the Knights of Malta was the best of its kind among patriotic organizations, whose symbol is the flag and what it stands for, and decried any effort which has its tendency to destroy American institutions of any character that means for the betterment of humankind.

Rev. Dr. Frederick C. Lake of the First Christian church said that he was not cognizant of Maltaism, but that any organization that held God and the church as supreme, and the public schools as allied sisters, has his endorsement. The doctor said that he was an advocate of the reading of the Bible in the schools.

A FACTORY TO HOME PIANO SALE

Through the display advertisement as appearing in today's Mail, the public is destined for "the best in music" at practically its own price. The Schroeder Piano Company, launching its first sale for a year, announces a "factory to home piano sale" and all that means for the prospective buyer of a piano, and like mother, "what is home without a piano." The sale is for three days only, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, and people will necessarily have to get busy in their selections.

Standard makes will be offered in this sale of sales, at savings of from $100 to $300. This includes the Steinway, Chickering, and other makes. The store will be open evenings.

UNCLE SAM GIVES CONSENT TO AID

Washington, March 19.— (United Press).—The United States government has instructed diplomatic and consular representatives in Germany to aid wherever possible American Legion representatives who have gone to Germany to get Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, draft dodger, to return home and take his medicine, it was learned at the state department today.

This action was taken following conferences here between Legion officials and those high in the department.

The government itself has not made any proposal to Bergdoll, it was stated officially.

SLEUTH LICENSE IS REFUSED

The court yesterday refused the application of Tony Puchany for a private detective license for the purpose of opening an office in the borough of Canonsburg. There was no opinion rendered by the court, simply the order as follows: "And now, March 17, 1924, after hearing and due consideration the prayer of the petitioner is denied and the petition dismissed by the Court."

The court also refuses the petition of W. E. Jericho, for a license as a private detective in the city of Monongahela. Mr. Jericho was a constable in the Second ward of Monongahela from 1911 until defeated last fall. Mr. Jericho's petition was largely signed by representative citizens of Monongahela.

There was bitter opposition to the appointment of Mr. Puchany, it being averred he was not a fit person to be trusted with a license. Six protests, largely signed, were presented to the court after Mr. Puchany had presented his petition. These were generally signed by a large number of Canonsburg citizens.

Robert Cowell and Harvey Bickerton, upon petition of George E. Andrews, constable in Speers, have been appointed deputy constables in that district.

FOUND DEAD IN THE CELLAR

John Pupkis, aged 28 years, a former resident of Monongahela City, was found dead in the cellar of his home in Wilmerding, Sunday morning having sustained a broken neck when he fell down the cellar stes.

The accident occurred late Saturday evening, as he had been dead several hours when found lying at the foot of the stairs. Bruises about the head and body indicated when Pupkis was first found that he had met with foul play but later this was discredited. His mother and sister reside in Europe but he has a brother and other relatives in Monongahela. The body was removed to Monongahela and the funeral services were held at the L. M. Frye morgue with interment in the Monongahela cemetery.

POLICE DELVING INTO MYSTERY OF WOMAN'S DEATH

Kansas City, March 9—(United Press)—The broken body of Dr. Zoe Wilkins, pretty toy of wealthy men, was in the morgue here today, as police delved into the mysterious life of the woman physician, six times married, in the belief she was murdered by ... gifts she had received from her many husbands.

The woman's body, a wide gash in her throat and forehead and terso bruised, was found in her office-home by a messenger boy last night.

Saloons In Pittsburgh Are Openly Defying The Volstead Act

MORE MESHES IN EVIDENCE AS TO MR. DAUGHERTY

Washington, March 19.— (United Press).—More meshes in a network of sensational evidence were to be woven today by witnesses before the Senate committee investigating Attorney General Daugherty.

Senator Wheeler, Montana, Democrat, directing the inquiry expected to develop testimony involving Attorney General Daugherty, through personal and political friends in:

1. The illegal transportation and exhibition of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight pictures.

2. The use of political influence to secure liquor withdrawal permits.

3. Laxity in the department of justice in prosecuting "lottery" loan companies.

William A. Orr, once secretary to ex-Governor Whitman of New York, will be grilled regarding his connection with the fight film and liquor deals.

Wheeler said witnesses are increasing at such a rate that it may be next week before Secretaries Mellon and Weeks will be called regarding charges of liquor deals and the aircraft case, in which Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent, said Jesse Smith got $100,000 from a Japanese firm.

BIG INTEREST IN REVIVALS

Union evangelistic services are being held in California, conducted by Evangelist Rev. Dr. James B. Ely.

The first of the series of revivals was held Sunday at the Methodist church. There was alarge crowd, and an augmented choir enhanced the value of the services. The meetings will be held for two weeks in the Methodist church; after that in the Presbyterian church.

A men's meeting is scheuled for next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Presbyterian church, and cottage prayer meetings are in vogue.

It is said that practically the entire community is aroused in interest in the meetings, and that many conversions and consequent good is expected.

Pittsburgh, March 19. — (United Press). — "All saloons in Pittsburgh are today as they have been in the past, openly and boldly defying the constitution of the United States, with their continuous violation of the 18th amendment," special investigators of Governor Pinchot reported to the state executive today.

The investigators reported to the Governor that high powered illegal beer is being sold in saloons all over the city and a great number of barrooms are boldly selling whisky for 20 cents and 50 cents a drink.

Federal prohibtion enforcement agents and local police seem to have made little impression on these violators of the law, the report continued.

There is absolutely no camouflaging of the high powered beer.

"Many drunken men are found in saloons all over the city." The report to Governor Pinchot may mean that the second detachment order of state troopers into Pittsburgh to clean up dens of iniquity and violators of the dry law.

A force of 80 state police raided 21 alleged liquor places yesterday and today notices of abatement were served on the proprietors.

They also gave orders to remove all bar fixtures and saloon appurtenances and place a screen on the doors and windows.

CONDEMNED CARS ORDERED SOLD

Two automobiles captured by county officers while being used in the illegal liquor traffic have been ordered condemned and sold according to law; three others have been ordered sold and the holders of title under bailment leases aid the amounts due them, and one machine was ordered returned to its owner, in decrees handed down by the court yesterday in seven automobile cases ending in which the district attorney had filed petitios asking for lecrees of condemnation.

The machine which the court orders returned to its owner is property of Mrs. Sophie Hirshman, wife of Sam Hirshman of Washington, who was arrested on April 25, 1923 while transporting liquor illegally. Subsequently, upon a plea of guilty, he was sentenced to pay a fine and to a term in the workhouse. Mrs. Hirshman had ... showing that she had purchased the machine for $935, and $200 had been paid. It was shown that her husband used the car in the illegal liquor traffic without her knowledge or consent. This is a Durant touring car.

Two Ford trucks used by H. E. Gregg and claimed under a bailment lease held by C. G. Gregg, of Washington, have been ordered sold by the court, and after the payment of the costs, C. G. Gregg is to receive the balance still due on the purchase price of the trucks. One of these seized trucks was being driven by H. E. Gregg and the other by George Ryan, an employe in Cecil townhip last May.

It was shown that both machines had been purchased by H. E. Gregg from C. G. Gregg under leases. There is still due C. G. Gregg on these leases the sum of $1,003.48.

A Ford machine seized while being used by Vincent Bochalk of Trevorskyn, at Meadowlands, on December 26, 1923, while being used in the illegal liquor traffic, is ordered sold and the claimant of title paid the sum of $153.43, the amount still due on the purchase price of the car. The machine was sold by George H. Burnette to Bochak, and title immedi... Financing company of Carmichaels, claimant.

A Hudson touring sedan is ordered forfeited and sold and the proceeds paid into the county treasury. The car was seized on November 25, 1923, in Meadowlands, while in possession of Wm. Lanier, of Washington, R. D. 7. It was being used in the illegal li-

Industry of Sportsmen Results In Vermin Being Slaughtered

Harrisburg, March 19—(United Press)—Determined effort by sportsmen of the state has greatly increased the slaughter of game destroying vermin, officials of the Game Commission said today in making known the report for the season. Higher bounty rates now effective were also responsible, it was said.

Bounties were paid on 140 wildcats in February, contrasted with 55 last year; 1860 grey foxes against 1114 in the same month the previous year; 1309 red foxes as against 649, and 5579 weasels against 6104.

Seth E. Gordon, executive secretary of the game commission pointed to the totals for the various kinds of vermin killed in the period of June 1, 1923, to March 1, 1924, to support the theory that activity of the sportsmen and higher bounties meant disaster for proxious animals. Bounties for wildcats have been increased from $8 to $15; from $2 to $4 for [illegible] remained at $2, and for weasels was reduced from $1.50 to $1.

In the period for which the vermin kill was compiled today an increase of 152 wildcats was shown, 1989 more grey foxes and 1449 reds, while weasels decreased 4376. Gordon pointed out that when drives against foxes were made both kinds were killed without thought of the bounty, so that the kill of red foxes increased though the county remained the same. The bounty decrease on weasels was held responsible for the decrease in their slaughter.

The commission centers its vermin drive on wildcats and foxes. C. A. Miller, of the bounty division of the game department, estimated that each wildcat kills at least 12 deer in a season and ten times as much small game as the average hunter. Hiller said the cats specialize on small does and fawns, but usually lacked courage to attack a full grown buck.

Bounty claims show that the majority of the cats and foxes are killed in northern tier counties. Although both are found occasionally in all sections, claims are seldom received except from the mountainous and sparsely settled counties.

Particularly gratifying, Hiller said was the slaughter of wildcats and foxes in the Bingham Virgin timber tract of the Bear-Bill Creek section of Elk county—one of the best hunting territories in the state.

Susquehanna county leads all others in the fox kill.

Sportsmen's organizations in eastern counties have been conductig organized drives against hawks and crows in the absence of other game destroyers, but the commission does not receive these reports.

TROOPERS READY FOR ANOTHER RAID

Pittsburgh, March 19. — (United Press).—State troopers, who yesterday staged 21 liquor raids in Pittsburgh, today were entrenching for a second smashing attack against dry law violators here.

Eighty members of the State Constabulary under command of Captain Leithiser and McLaughlin will be ordered to "charge" on the city again should investigators of Governor Pinchot advise the state executive that an additional cleanup crusade is needed.

The state police yesterday seized several truck loads of alleged beer, wine, whisky and alcohol. Fifty-five persons were arrested in the various places raided.

The men taken into custody waived preliminary hearings and were held under $1,000 bond each for a hearing tonight.

It is understood that "padlock" injunctions will be asked against the places raided, to prevent the alleged "drinking parlors" from further violations of the prohibition law.

PLANES READY TO TAKE OFF NEAR SEATTLE

Eugene, Oregon, March 19.—(United Press). — Three planes of the army's round-the-world flight were here today ready to take off for Sand Point, near Seattle, on the third leg of their 30,000 mile journey.

Major Frederick N. Martin, commander, and Lieut. Lowell Smith reached Eugene shortly before 4 p. m., yesterday, completing a successful flight from Mather Field, Sacramento.

The third flyer, Lieut. Wade, started from Mather Field with Martin and Smith, but was forced to land at Cottonwood, Calif., and did not reach Eugene until 5:23.

Wade said a petcock on the radiator of his machine had been left open necessitating the landing. He broke a tail in a tail skid, causing additional delay.

Martin made the flight from Sacramento in six hours and seven minutes, buffeted by heavy head winds.

44 GO DOWN WHEN BOATS COLLIDE

London, March 19.—(United Press). —Four officers and 40 men have gone down in a Japanese submarine which collided with a warship off the port of Sasebo on the west coast of the island of Kiushiu, 30 miles north of Nagasaki, according to a dispatch here today.

The submarine sank in 26 fathoms of water.

Rescue workers are doing their utmost to reach the undersea craft in hope the crew still may be alive.

Take Tip From A Tramp When You Travel

Phila., Mar. 15—(United Press)—Take a tip from a tramp when you travel is the advice of Dr. William P. Harbeson, professor of English at the University of Pennsylvania.

"Travel," declared Dr. Harbeson, "is education without the drudgery of classroom work. As much benefit can be got by traveling a mile in the right way as by attending college for a year."

Dr. Harbeson lives up to his own ideas when he goes traveling. Last summer he made his way in a small motorboat from the headwaters of the Rhone river to its mouth. Next summer he hopes to do the same on the Danube.

"Travel in this fashion provides the outlet for the desire of adventure which is so often curtailed in modern life. Getting along as cheaply as possible and talking with everyone is the way to get the full benefits of travel. The Germans and Austrians have a good idea. They go about in bands, sleeping in fields and in this way travel all summer for a few dollars. People who go on conventional tours see little compared with these folks.

"It is surprising the number of such travelers one meets in the cheaper lodging houses. They are those with the big smiles and the big appetites."

RESULTS OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE

It may be rather soon to judge of the results of woman suffrage, but what amounts to this is to be found in two current magazine articles. Writing in the February Atlantic Monthly, and referring, not to the exceptional few, but to women in general, Mrs. A. R. Martin, after wide inquiry in many parts of the country, says: "I am forced to conclude that, among American women the world over, apart from those few disinterestedly thoughtful and those directly concerned, there is a lack of interest in public affairs, an apathy, an absence of concern, not so much in the issue at hand as in the principle behind it." Writing on the same subject in the March issue of the Century magazine, Charles Edward Russell sounds an even more discouraging note. He finds that practically there is no noticeable result of woman suffrage, neither the predicted disasters nor the expected benefits having come to pass. "Nothing has been changed," he says, "except that the number of docile ballot droppers has approximately been doubled."

One of the notable discoveries is that women will not vote for women. The one woman in Congress was elected "out of respect to her late husband." Of the 500 members of State legislatures, only 63 are women. "Even the most ardent woman suffragist," he writes, "like the humble presenter of these facts, is forced to admit that so far in public affairs the enrobling influence of womanhood is still a matter of faith." He finds, however, that in spite of—some might say in consequence of their lack of interest in politics, women are still as feminine, gentle and lovable as ever. Lack of any change in this particular is obviously matter for general congratulation.

MITTELEUROPA AND WILSON.

Interesting information as to how Woodrow Wilson is now regarded in Mitteleuropa (central Europe,) the defeated part of the world,' is contained in a communication from Sofia, Bulgaria, signed S. Tonjeroff, date of February 6, sent by mail and published in Springfield Republican. According to this writer, when Wilson's promises of "justice, immunity from vengeance, freedom from exaction and persecution, if we would only renounce militarism and adopt the democratic spirit in government" were received, regarding these promises as reliable, "our soldiers on the various fronts laid down their arms." They were not defeated in battle but "by Wilson's promises." Imagine their feelings when they found that the promises were not kept, and, although they had surrendered to Wilson, they were treated as if they had surrendered to the conquering sword of the Allies!

But now, since his death, they begin better to understand the real Wilson and the difficulties he faced. He was a "prophet' with a "noble vision" and his principles "will survive." He "moved on the highest mental plane a man in commanding position ever moved," but he found himself "enmeshed in a network of intrigue by men who knew suremely well how to play the practical game of international politics." It was the same Wilson all through and he did not fail the world. It was the old-line politicians who defeated him and betrayed the world. Such is now the view of young King Boris of Bulgaria and other leading men with whom the Sofia correspondent has talked. They no longer blame Wilson but hold him in reverent and lasting regard. Such an estimate is the more interesting and significant as coming from "the defeated art of the world."

It seems that there is the law's orgetfulness as well as the law's delay. We read of a man who lay six months in a Columbus Ohio, jail because his case was "overlooked."

PRESIDENT HAS LEAD OF 2 TO 1

Fargo, N. D., March 19—(United Press)—President Calvin Coolidge had a lead of more tahn two to one in returns from cities early today as the count of the presidential preference vote in North Dakota progressed.

Country precincts, however, rapidly cut down his lead as they began reporting and Senator Hiram Johnson's supporters were confident he would win the Republican preference.

Crops Measured by Meter on Auto Dashboard

For recording the measurements of fields planted in various crops, a meter attached to the dashboard of an automobile has been included in the equipment of the Department of Agriculture. The instrument is operated from the same gearing mechanism used for an ordinary speedometer. Each crop may be recorded on its particular section and the dimensions of the "stands" are shown in feet. At the right of the device is a scale that registers the total distances covered in each patch of a certain kind is measured, it is added to the total. Each scale is labeled and has a button which must be pressed to throw it into action. Ten principal crops are provided for as well as idle ground and pasture land

Renewing Golf Balls

A cheap and practical method of renewing old golf balls is to fill the cracks with white rubber cement, which can be obtained at any drug store. After filling the cracks, the entire surface of the ball is painted. By restoring the balls in this way there are no bumps or cracks which have a tendency to influence the course of the ball, and the whitened surface will show up well. It is a good idea to wash the balls in cool soapy water before going to the grounds, as this helps to retain the old luster and removes stains.

Secrets of the Seven Seas Told by "Bottle Papers"

To learn the speed and direction of ocean currents, government experts use "bottle papers." Accurate knowledge of these drifts is important to navigation, and the safety of hundreds may depend upon it. Small slips, with directions for their return printed in the principal languages, are given to ship captains, to be sealed in flasks and thrown overboard. Months or years later, some return. One floated nearly across the Atlantic and back, and another crossed the widest part of the Pacific in a little over two years. A third, dropped near the Cape of Good Hope, was picked up on the western coast of Australia.

Sand for Railroads' Safety Costs Millions Yearly

While big figures are used in telling the cost of safety to the railways, the amazing item to the average person is the amount spent for sand. Four tons are required for every mile of road in the United States, according to the figures of one trunk line with 7,500 miles of single track. This is in the middle west and south, where mountains are not encountered, the figures given are regarded as conservative. The cost of putting the sand into the engine boxes is placed at $2.50 a ton as an average minimum. For all the roads the yearly cost is estimated at $2,037,070. For the most part the sand is brought from river bottoms and dried by steam at the coal house.

Magnets Lay Nails Straight in Packing Boxes or Kegs

To lay nails straight in containers, a packer equipped with magnets is reported to have been built by a Swiss inventor. The machine is said to be able to fill large boxes, or paper cartons and to handle wire rods, hairpins, knife blades and fishhooks with equal ease. The articles to be boxed up are poured into a huge vibrating hopper in lots of about a thousand pounds and are straightened out on large trays below.

Inexpensive Sign Hanger

Substantial and attractive metal signs can readily be made from lengths of pipe and fittings and a piece of sheet metal. The hanger is attached to a building, as shown in the illustration, no guy wires or bracing of any kind are required to support it, still it is so solid that the strongest winds will not loosen it. Two different designs are shown, one for mounting the sign at right angles to the sides of a building and the other for mounting it on a corner so that it can be seen from two streets. The sign itself is a piece of heavy sheet metal attached to the pipe frame by means of metal straps passed around the pipe and bent to the edge of the sheet, as shown.

"GROCERIES AND FEED" MAY SATISFY MORE THAN ONE HUNGER

Girls who want to succeed in business frequently ask whether bookkeeping isn't a blind alley occupation, whether once proved dependible in handling details, they won't be expected to content themselves with the petty things as long as they work. And other girls, hunting an excuse, often, for going in search of the romantic success that they think to find in some big city, insist that "working for father never gets you anywhere. Why, your father and mother can't even seem to learn that you're grown up, if you're a girl."

Yet father may be in his own comfortable fashion, a "capitalist," able to choose for daughter business connections and short cuts to an established place, that not one wage earner in 10,000 finds. And the task of winning father's confidence by hard work plus some clever salesmanship, is, if we may believe the daughters who have tried it, just the same sort of work plus salesmanship that's required to get ahead on any job.

It's the story of the bookkeeper plus the story of the daughter entering father's business that is indicated in a dignified letter head reading:

I. R. LEONARD
Dealer In
GROCERIES AND FEED
Sullivan, Indiana

"After graduation," writes Miss Leonard, "I accepted a position as bookkeeper and clerk in my father's grocery store. Soon he began consulting me on minor details and management. Then he turned the whole over to me to manage. Later, deciding to retire from active business he sold it to me. Now I own and operate one of the largest grocery stores in southern Indiana.

"I recommend bookkeeping, store management, and saving till she can go into business for herself to any young woman who has a talent for detail or for management. She can succeed and enjoy her work," continues Miss Leonard.

"A clean grocery store, with packages all in an orderly row, with goods displayed to the best advantage and the fragrant odor of good coffee rising above it all, ought to appeal to the housewifely instincts of any girl."

Who Cares?

Some telephone subscribers take this position:

"I have a telephone, my friends have telephones. Why doesn't the telephone company let well enough alone? Why are they spending these millions that they are talking about to take on new telephones?"

We might let the man who is waiting for a telephone answer that, but we won't.

Every new telephone added to the system makes the service more valuable to the present subscribers.

Adequate telephone service in the factory, in the store, at the mines, on the farm, is as essential as the trucks and railway cars which move the products.

A shortage of cars makes itself felt in higher prices. So, too, would a shortage of communication facilities.

Telephone growth must keep pace with population and the increasing complexities and demands of modern life.

If it is true that the telephone has facilitated the marketing of goods and commodities, and thereby has lowered prices, it holds true equally that inadequate service would tend to keep prices at a higher level than they should be.

Wagner of Meadow avenue, Tuesday, April 1.

Miss Genevieve McMahan, last evening, entertained the members of the U. N. I. club at her Fallowfield home with a full attendance present. Following a short business discussion a social hour was enjoyed in games and music. Miss Jean Wilson and Miss Mary Irsee entertained with a novelty dance accompanied on the piano by Miss Genevieve McMahon. An excellent luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Margaret McMahon.

A March wedding of local interest took place today in Greensburg, when ter of Thomas Ballentyne of Lincoln Avenue extension, became the bride of Ralph C. Booker, son of Mrs. Phyllis Booker of Speers. The young couple left this vicinity this morning by motor. They stopped off at Greensburg, where they were married and then continued their journey towards Cumberland, Md., and other points, on a few days' wedding trip.

The bride was very becomingly attired in a bead-trimmed tan georgette gown, with black spring hat to correspond, and wearing a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. Over her gown she wore a black spring wrap. Upon their return the young couple will reside temporarily with the groom's mother in Speers. Both the bride and groom are wellknown and exceedingly popular in the community.

NEW CALENDER TO RUN TILL YEAR 17,600

Prof. Chas. F. Marvin, Chief of the United States Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C., has improved the Gregorian calendar, with one of his own name. The new one will extend the old one, having 13 months to a year, 4 weeks to a month, and the first day of each week being Sunday. An extra day each year would be a National Holiday. Professor Marvin says the calendar would run till the year 17,600.

United States Take Over Isle Royale In Lake Superior

Washington, March 15. — (United Press).—If Isle Royale, a virgin island in the heart of Lake Superior, becomes a national recreation area, one of the dreams of Secretary of the Interior Work will be realized.

Steps have already been taken by the secretary to procure the island for national park purposes. A portion of the land owned by the state of Michigan has been donated to the federal government and several private owners have informed the secretary of their disposition to follow the state's action. As soon as the entire acreage has been transferred by gift to the government, Secretary Work will recommend to the President that it be converted into a national monument.

The island has an area of 132,000 acres. It is 45 miles long and 9 miles wide. It lies almost in the center of the lake and is 85 miles from Duluth, Minn., and 18 miles from Port Arthur.

ment is effected it is the plan to preserve the features of the island. Here among the stately trees the axe of the woodcutter has never been heard. Over the mossy banks and leaf-covered stretches roam herds of moose, woodland caribou and other animals, which have never heard the report of the hunter's gun. In its 21 cool inland lakes and swift-flowing streams live finny tribes who have never been tempted by the fisherman's bait. In tree-tops are breeding places of innumerable wild fowl, migratory song and insectivorous birds and gulls and ferns.

Evidence of pre-historic mining and inhabitants have been uncovered in sections of the island. It is the only place known to man where chorastrolites (green stones) and thompsonites have been found. For many reasons, the island is of unusual scientific interest, and offers rare opportunities for research and study.

"This island, it seems to me" said Secretary Work, "fully measures up to national monument standards, and I have no doubt that it is qualified for a conspicuous place in the National Park system. If practically all the holdings can be secured for the United States government, I will be glad to exercise the power vested in me by law to accept the gift and recommend to the President that he establish a national monument to preserve the island in its natural condition."

A splendid photo of Crown Prince Hirohito, Regent of Japan—who recently married the Princess Nagako Kuni—and the Prince of Wales, heir to the throne of Great Britain. Two strong-willed young men who have shattered precedents—the Japanese Regent by marrying for love in the first love match in the history of the Japanese empire—and the Prince of Wales by refusing, so far, to marry at all and by refusing to give up his favorite sports of riding and hunting even after breaking his collarbone.

NEW YORK SCULPTRESS MODELS "LADY DI"

England's most famous society beauty—Lady Diana Manners (Duff-Cooper), posing in her costume as "The Nun," for Miss Ivy McCarthy, noted New York sculptress, who is seen working on a statuette of Lady Di as "The Madonna". Miss McCarthy is modeling all of the principals in the cast of "The Miracle."

Site of Peg Leg Smith's Gold Mine Remains Secret

Smith had lost a leg in an Indian fight and in the course of his wandering found himself at Yuma, then a small military post on the lower Colorado river. With a companion he was en route for California and they struck out toward the west through an uncharted region.

As was to have been expected, they lost their way and one day saw in the distance three conical hills, the central one being the loftiest. In order to obtain an idea of the region to the westward and of the best course to be pursued they climbed the loftiest of the hills and, after studying the landscape and deciding in what direction to direct their steps, had their attention attracted by some roughly shaped, blackened fragments of metal, which upon examination proved to be solid gold. The ground was thickly strewed with them.

Filling their pockets, they resumed their journey, after having made landmarks that might serve as guides in the future, when they planned to return and make themselves wealthy.

But they never returned. They were in a barren and waterless region, and while staggering over the sands, crazed with thirst, Smith's companion finally gave up the ghost, as have so many others who have in the past essayed to cope, while ill-equipped, with the hardships of the desert. Smith brought up in the Sisters of Mercy hospital in Los Angeles, having been found unconscious by the roadside of some passing Good Samaritans.

The suffering that he had undergone proved too much for him and finally it became the duty of the attending physician to inform him that his days were numbered. When assured of this fact he related the story of the gold discovery to the doctor and gave him the nuggets that remained in his pocket. The doctor and many others later on made several attempts to find the lost mine, but unsuccessfully.—Adventure Magazine.

Early Christians Hid in Catacombs of Rome

The catacombs of the early Christians of Rome consisted of long, narrow galleries, usually about eight feet high and five feet wide, branching off in all directions, forming a perfect maze of corridors. When one story was no longer sufficient, staircases were made, and a second line of galleries was dug out beneath.

The graves, or loculi, to receive the bodies, were cut into the walls of the gallery, one above another. They were closed laterally by a slab, on which there was occasionally a brief inscription or a symbol, such as a dove, an anchor or a palm branch, and sometimes all of these. Some of the inscriptions and epitaphs were beautifully carved, some merely scratched on the slab, and others were painted in red and black. In later times beautiful frescoes were common, in which were indicated the Christian faith and devotion.

It is now regarded as certain that in times of persecution the early Christians frequently took refuge in the catacombs, since burial places had the right of protection by law, and they also gathered there to celebrate in secret the ceremonies of their religion.—Detroit News.

All of the Wheat

Do you know the difference between whole wheat and graham flour? Well, there isn't any. In 1889 Dr. Graham started an agitation for the unbolted whole wheat and gave his name to the product. Graham flour and whole wheat are identically the same product. Both mean the whole of the wheat berry ground up after cleaning it. There may be some difference between various graham flours because they are made from different kinds of wheat, or they may be ground to different degrees of fineness, but otherwise they are alike. All contain the bran and vitamine that make wheat so valuable a food.

Temperature

A state commission in New York that has been studying the matter of ventilation says that an indoor temperature higher than 67 degrees is prejudicial to health and efficiency. "An increase from 68 to 75 degrees," says the report, "caused a decrease of 15 per cent in the work done by workmen who were stimulated by a cash bonus. An increase of temperature from 68 degrees to 86 degrees when the relative humidity was 80 caused a reduction of 28 per cent in the work done, in spite of the bonus offer."—Youth's Companion.

"Why, yes, of course."

An Appreciation

WEST PENN POWER SYSTEM — LIGHT POWER RAILWAYS

DURING the recent sleet storm which swept over Western Pennsylvania practically our entire power system was seriously crippled within 6 hours. Enormous damage was done and the work of many men through many years was wiped out in the space of a few hours. With an ordinary organization the West Penn Power Company could not have hoped to cope with the situation within a weeks time.

The efficient manner in which this emergency was handled and service promptly restored, demonstrates that the West Penn Power System is equipped to meet any situation. No man spared himself—clerks, storekeepers, linemen, solicitors, engineers, all gave their best in the public service. Heroic deeds were many and no one flinched nor swerved from his duty.

The promptness with which this emergency was met was due primarily to the loyalty and hard work of our employees. To them goes the credit. We may only add that it gives us great pleasure to thus publicly acknowledge our appreciation.

Last Surviving Staff Officers At R. E. Lee's Surrender Gives Party

Wilkes-Barre, Mar. 15 —(United Press)—The last surviving staff officer who witnessed the surrender of General Lee to General Grant at Appomatox in 1865—Colonel Jed. C. Paine, famous cavalryman, now living at Harvey's Lake, near here, celebrated his 85th birthday by giving a big party to his friends.

"Just to show I'm still a live one," the Colonel said, was his purpose.

Colonel Paine was in Savannah, Ga., when the Civil War started and made his way north only with great difficulty. He came to his home here and at once assisted in organizing a regiment of volunteers.

He served with distinction and was one of the first officers commissioned by President Lincoln in the newly organized signal corps. Later he was in the cavalry and was made colonel at the war's end.

Colonel Paine is as hale and hearty his daily constitutional outdoors no matter what the weather.

quor traffic at the time. It was understood that the Pittsburg Auto exchange held title to the machine, but no claim was made by any person.

The court refuses the claim of title to a Dode roadster made by Sparks B. McCauslen of Steubenville, Ohio, which was seized in Washington county on August 1, 1923, while in possession of Lloyd Cutshall. Mr. McCausland claimed title to the machine under a chattel mortgage made at Steubenville, Ohio. It was averred that $350 was still due on the car. The court holds that the claimant does not have sufficient title to the car.

A GERMAN ARSENAL IN NEW JERSEY

When the late war ended, the Government thought that some of the American people would like reminders of the great conflict. Therefore, loads of captured German material was brought over and stored at Port Newark, N. J. A bill was put up in Congress, and is still there, to get funds to send some of the big guns and shells to different towns as war memorials. Congress is set against an expenditure, so the articles are still in the temporary arsenal. Here is Officer M. McCann, holding a few helmets.

PILGRIMS CONQUER NEW TERRITORY

New York, March 19—(United Press)—The Pilgrims conquered new territory last night when the speeches of Sir Esme Howard, new British ambassador, and Ambassador Jusserand of France, were heard in London after being broadcast from the Waldorf Astoria.

The seeches at the dinner tendered Sir Esme Howard by the Society of Pilgroms was estimated by radio experts to have been heard by at least 50,000 in America and 50,000 in England.

The following radiogram was received before the affair was over:

"Congratulations on successful broadcasting. We are now listening to speeches. Heard introductory remarks by Chairman. Deafening applause. (Signed) Wood, Wanamaker's, London."

A group of English pilgroms were assembled at station 2LO, the Marconi branch in London. The addresses were broadcast by station WJZ linked to WGY in Schenectady. From WGY the speeches were transmitted to 2LO.

Ambassador Jusserand upheld the French policy of air expansion and termed the British fleet as "the navy of a friend." He uttered his hope for a perpetual peace between England America and France, and denied any militaristic ambitions on the part of France.

"I do not believe the American people will just leave Europe to stew in her own juice," said Ambassador Jusserand.

Ambassador Howard in his first [illegible] diplomatic office struck the note of American leadership in Europe.

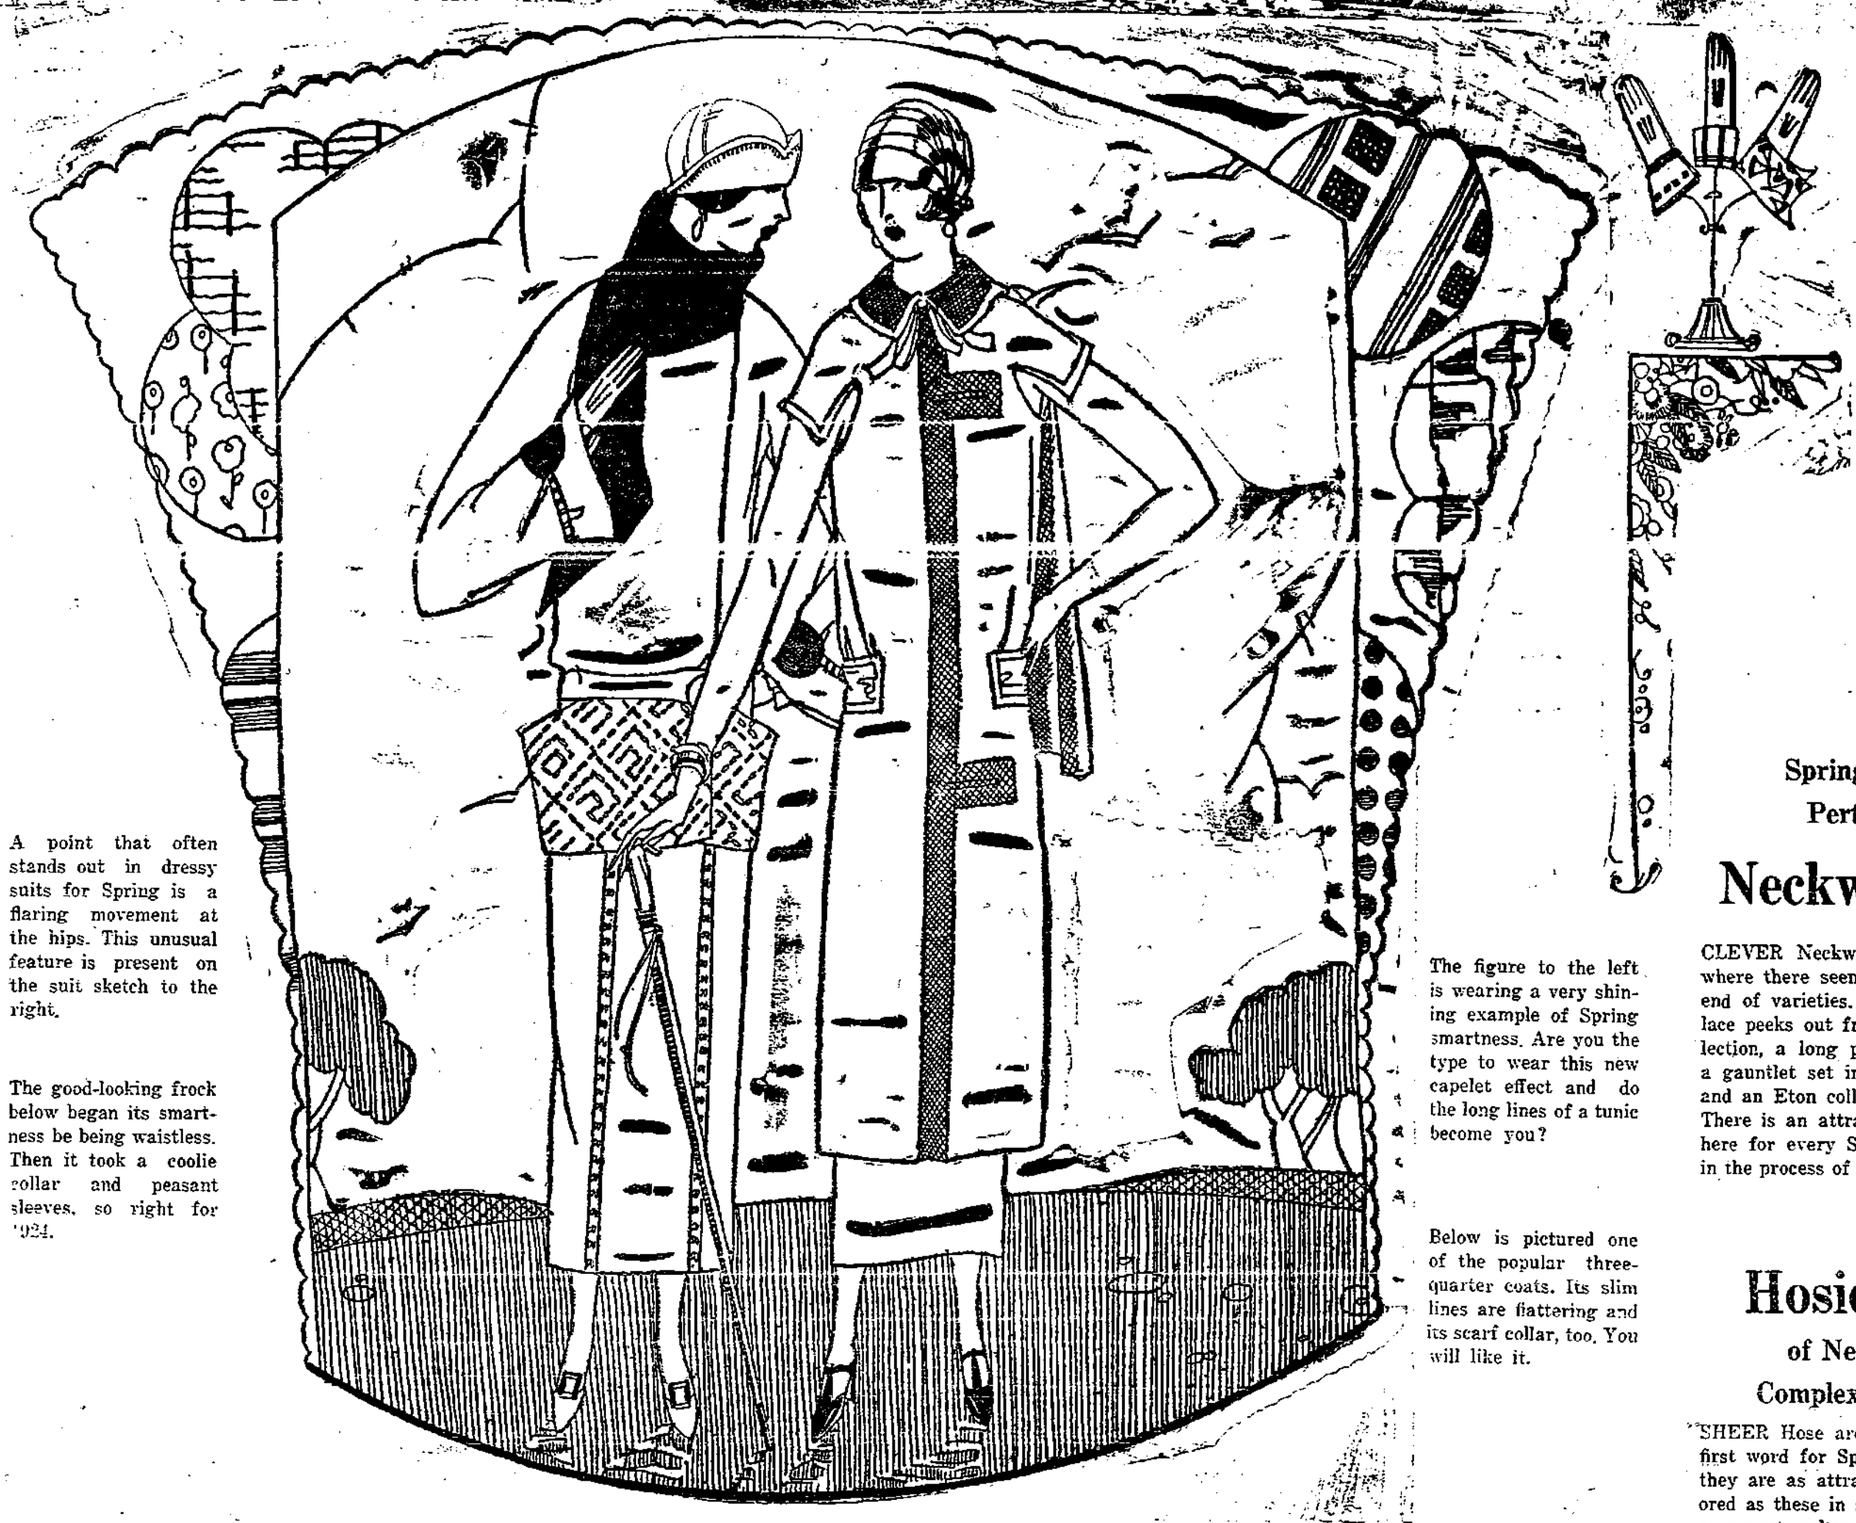
Spring Exposition



A point that often stands out in dressy suits for Spring is a flaring movement at the hips. This unusual feature is present on the suit sketch to the right.

The good-looking frock below began its smartness be being waistless. Then it took a coolie collar and peasant sleeves, so right for '924.

The figure to the left is wearing a very shining example of Spring smartness. Are you the type to wear this new capelet effect and do the long lines of a tunic become you?

Below is pictured one of the popular three-quarter coats. Its slim lines are flattering and its scarf collar, too. You will like it.

Spring's
Gay
Blouses

FASHIONABLE women will be seen often in Blouses this Spring, ready for golf in monogrammed flannel ones perhaps; or dressed for afternoon in charming Overblouses of crepe de Chine. Five or six new ideas in collars alone is evidence of the originality you will find here.

Ready for First
Games

FASHION, just full of pleasant thoughts for Spring playing has made some thoroughly delightful Sports Clothes this season. Knitted sweaters, suits and frocks speak youth in their colors and lines. Oriental and Russian notes creep in to make them fascinating. Clever little hats and gay smocks, too, will make all outdoor pastimes doubly pleasant.

Spring's
Pert
Neckwear

CLEVER Neckwear this is, where there seems to be no end of varieties. A jabot of lace peeks out from the collection, a long panel collar, a gauntlet set in organdie, and an Eton collar of linen. There is an attractive finish here for every Spring frock in the process of making.

Hosiery
of New Complexions

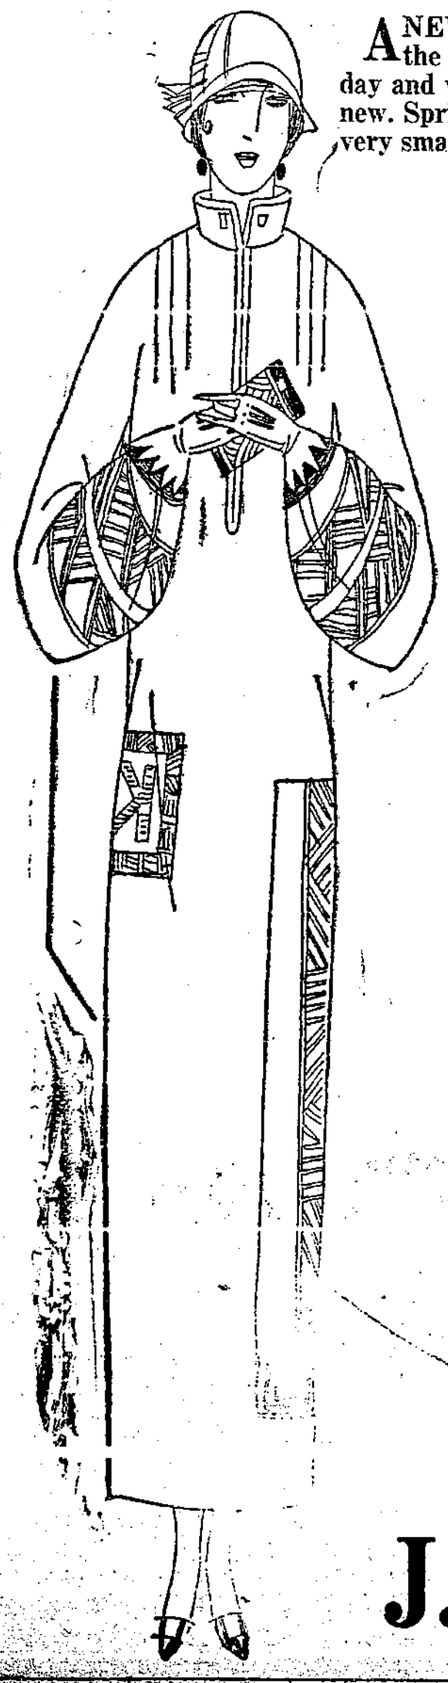
SHEER Hose are fashion's first word for Spring. When they are as attractively colored as these in such shades as sunset, sahara, skyn and acorn there is no dispute as to their fitness for the smartest wardrobes.

Hose that match the shoes or contrast are equally smart.

A NEW season, new fashions, new clothes—what fun! It is Spring, time for shopping larks and the enjoyment of sparkling new clothes. An interesting Spring Exposition is beginning today and will continue through the week. You will want to visit it and become acquainted with the new. Spring fashion ideas you gather here will reflect themselves in your new wardrobe, make it very smart and very satisfying.

Spring Millinery--It's Difference Delights

THERE has been gossip in the Spring air about turbans in Hatland, cloches, tricornes, roll brim Hats and those that fit like skullcaps. There has been talk of their trimmings, too, Tinted feathers have been mentioned with fancy pins, embroideries, gleaming satin bows and tiny taffeta roses. Women picture, half decide and then they wait awhile. But no one could resist for long the new hat urge when she was tempted with ideas like these. They take part in the Spring Exposition, to which you are invited. From Miss Sixteen to Madame more matronly there are Hats just to their likings. Gay, trim, dashing or dignified, but with charming newness and fashion trueness.

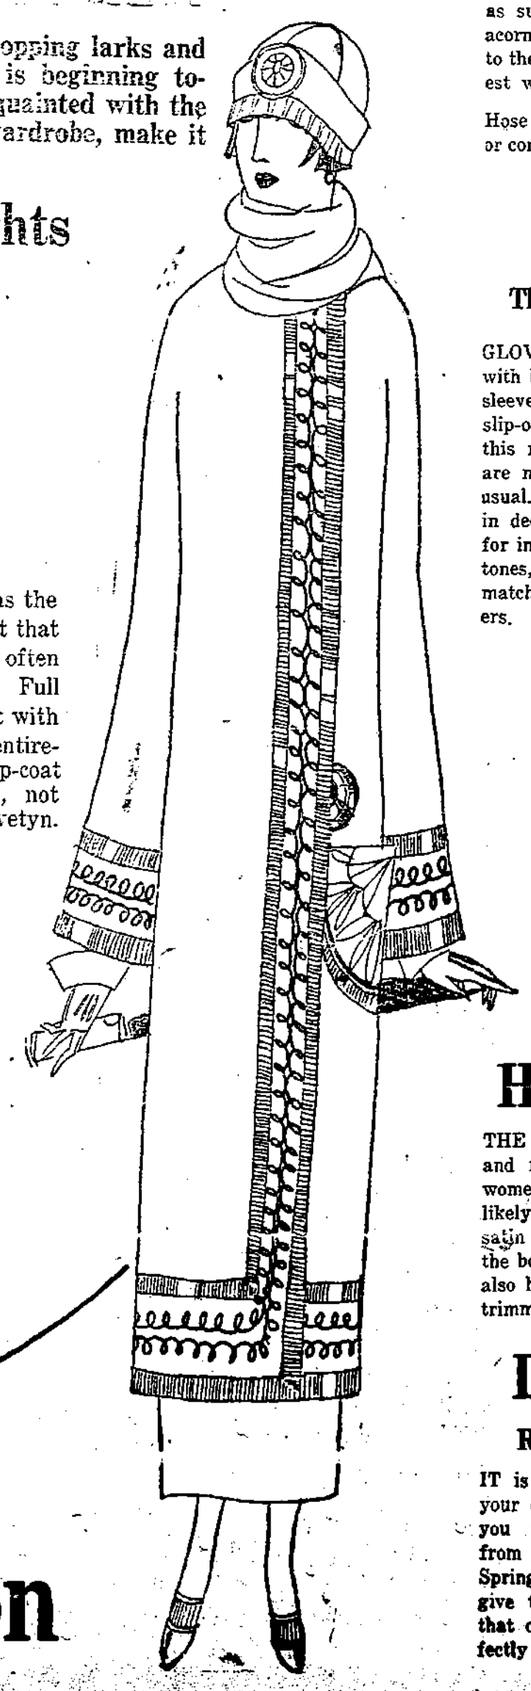


SUIT STORIES are varied and interesting this Spring. There is a thrill for the person who dotes on tailored clothes, for the boyish, fitted costume in twill or covert has won fashion glory. There is comfort for the sportswoman in the thought of a jaunty Suit of a new supple woolen. And there is surprise in store for everyone concerning the newnesses in three-piece Suits — their three-quarter coats and other smart turns.

WRAY WAYS are as numerous as the types to wear them. First is the Coat that goes to the knees, wears no belt and often has a scarf or high standing collar. Full length types, too, are good to look at with sleeve, collar and trimming points entirely new. Wrap fabrics range from top-coat woolens to the sleekest broadcloth, not forgetting flamingo, moire and duvetyn. These models will meet your taste.

FROCK FASHIONS for Spring! And the mode is told in a hundred new ways this season! For the business and pleasures of daytime are long straight Dresses with fullness below the knees, also apron tunic, capelet details and youthful middy types. And you must see the new leg o' mutton sleeve and coolie collar and plaited bib effects. Shorter skirts are noticed too and buttons serve very cleverly as trimmings. These are fashion facts that will impress you on your visit to the Exposition. They merely hint at the style excellence of this frock collection, where you will find garments beyond your best expectations. There is real becomingness in these models that have used charmeen, flannel, alpaca and glossy satins so interestingly.

Every woman will want at least one Frock of a formal nature for Spring, and Exposition Week is just the time to choose it. There is a rainbow of luscious colors in tulle and chiffon Frocks, to flatter fair and dark-haired women.



Gloves
That Say "Style"

GLOVES are short for spring with both long and short-sleeved dresses. There are slip-ons and gauntlets with this new feature—that they are much more simple than usual. But whatever they lack in decoration they make up for in smart colors, beige tones, greys and browns to match Spring's costume leaders.

Veils have a place in the new season fashions. They have no size restrictions but must be cleverly embroidered, whether to grace a tiny cloche or picture hat.

Tete de negre is a favorite Veiling shade.

Fabrics
At Their Best

WHAT is new in fabrics? Much. First there are woolens that by their suppleness will be easy to work with and make up into very smart looking costumes. Then there are radiant and shimmering silks that help one anticipate very lovely frocks, blouses and skirts. Yes, there is encouragement here for the woman who sews.

Let Spring Enter
Your Home

WHEN every member of the family is getting new clothes should the Home be far behind? Never. For that is where your Spring-dressed friends will gather. Greet them with a new lamp, rug or chair, bright hangings or lovely china. Here are a host of pretty Home things that should join your household this Spring.

All for the Junior

WITH all winter's fun the children are glad it is Spring. [illegible] to do call for new wardrobes; coats, hats, suits, frocks and underwear for warmer days. Smart, practical clothes for going-away times and for school are in fine assortments here, with every age considered.

Fashion-wary
Handbags

THE BAG that shops, teas, and matinees with smart women this Spring is very likely to be a pouch Bag of satin or moire. But within the bounds of fashion it may also be an envelope purse, trimmed with petit point.

Lingerie
Ready! Lovely!

IT is time for replenishing your entire wardrobe and if you will choose Lingerie from this just arrived for Spring, your costumes will give that intimate pleasure that comes from being perfectly groomed.
